

Duravel — Lifecycle Email Sequence

Seven ready-to-load templates for the opted-in flow. Each block shows its trigger, timing, subject, preview, and merge fields, then the rendered email. Copy the inner `<table class="email">` HTML into Resend/Loops, or hand these to React Email. Voice + colors are a starting point — tune to your brand. Never send these to non-opted-in lists.

Email · Trigger: Email capture (QR / free tool) Timing: Instant (transactional)

Subject: Your HYROX splits are ready

Preview: Here's exactly how to pace your goal time.

Merge fields: `{{first_name}}`, `{{goal_time}}`, `{{splits_summary}}`, `{{trial_url}}`, `{{unsubscribe_url}}`

● DURAVEL

Hey `{{first_name}}` — here are your pacing splits for a `{{goal_time}}` finish:

`{{splits_summary}}`

(Your run splits + station targets, from the numbers you entered.)

Most age-groupers blow up because they run the first two 1 km runs too hard, then bleed time on the compromised runs after burpees and lunges. Your splits are built to hold, not fade.

Want the full block that gets you to those splits? Duravel builds a periodized HYROX plan around your benchmarks and adapts it every week from what you actually log.

Start my 14-day free trial →

No credit card. — Levi, Duravel

You're getting this because you grabbed the free pacing tool at duravel.app.

Duravel · [Your business mailing address] · Unsubscribe

Email · Trigger: Nurture 1 Timing: +2 days

Subject: Why your easy runs are probably too hard

Preview: The most common age-grouper mistake, and the fix.

Merge fields: `{{first_name}}`, `{{trial_url}}`, `{{unsubscribe_url}}`

● DURAVEL

{{first_name}} — quick one that changes how most people train for HYROX.

If your "easy" runs leave you breathing hard, they're not easy — they're grey-zone. Grey-zone running is too slow to sharpen your top end and too hard to build the aerobic base that carries you through eight stations. It's the busiest way to plateau.

The fix: most of your running volume should sit in Zone 2 — conversational, nose-breathing pace. It feels almost too slow. That's the point. You bank aerobic fitness cheaply, then spend it on a couple of genuinely hard sessions a week.

Duravel programs this split for you automatically — easy days truly easy, hard days actually hard — and sets the HR zones from your own numbers.

See it on a real plan →

You're getting this because you grabbed the free pacing tool at duravel.app.

Duravel · [Your business mailing address] · Unsubscribe

Email · Trigger: Nurture 2 Timing: +5 days

Subject: From "winging it" to a sub-70 age-group finish

Preview: What changed when the training got programmed.

Merge fields: {{first_name}}, {{trial_url}}, {{unsubscribe_url}}

● DURAVEL

{{first_name}} — a note from someone who was training exactly like most of us: hard, often, and a little randomly.

"I wasn't undertrained, I was unstructured. Having easy days that were actually easy and one brutal compromised-run session a week was the whole unlock. Took four minutes off my time in a block."

— {{ambassador_name}}, age-group HYROX

That's the entire idea behind Duravel: the structure does the thinking so you can just show up and execute. It adapts week to week from what you log, so the plan tracks your real life — not an ideal one.

Try it free for 14 days →

You're getting this because you grabbed the free pacing tool at duravel.app.

Duravel · [Your business mailing address] · Unsubscribe

Email · Trigger: Nurture 3 Timing: +8 days

Subject: Your goal-time plan is one click away

Preview: 14 days free. No card. Cancel anytime.

Merge fields: {{first_name}}, {{goal_time}}, {{trial_url}}, {{unsubscribe_url}}

● DURAVEL

{{first_name}} — you've got the splits for a {{goal_time}} finish. Here's the plan that gets you there.

In your free trial you get:

- ✓ A full periodized HYROX block built around your benchmarks
- ✓ Personalized HR zones + a race-day pacing plan
- ✓ Weekly adaptation — log your sessions, next week adjusts

Fourteen days, no credit card. If it's not for you, walk away and keep the splits.

Build my plan →

You're getting this because you grabbed the free pacing tool at duravel.app.

Duravel · [Your business mailing address] · Unsubscribe

Email · Trigger: Nurture 4 Timing: +14 days

Subject: Closing the loop

Preview: Last note from me — then I'll leave your inbox alone.

Merge fields: {{first_name}}, {{trial_url}}, {{unsubscribe_url}}

● DURAVEL

{{first_name}} — I won't keep emailing if it's not useful, so this is the last one in this series.

If HYROX is on your calendar this year, the single highest-leverage change you can make is to stop guessing at your training structure. That's the whole reason Duravel exists — and the trial costs you nothing but 10 minutes of onboarding.

If now's not the time, no worries at all. The free pacing tool is always there when you need a gut-check before a race.

Start free whenever you're ready →

Thanks for scanning. — Levi

You're getting this because you grabbed the free pacing tool at duravel.app.
Duravel · [Your business mailing address] · Unsubscribe

Email · Trigger: Race week (event leads only, by race_tag) Timing: Race date – 3 days
Subject: {{race_name}} is almost here — pace it, don't send it
Preview: Your race-week checklist + splits reminder.
Merge fields: {{first_name}}, {{race_name}}, {{goal_time}}, {{trial_url}}, {{unsubscribe_url}}

● DURAVEL

{{first_name}} — {{race_name}} is three days out. Two things that win races at our level:

- 1. Bank nothing on the first two runs. Hit your {{goal_time}} splits, not your ego. The race is won on the compromised runs, not the fresh ones.
- 2. Transitions are free time. Walk in with a plan for the wall balls and the sled — that's where minutes hide.

Pull up your splits before you rack your gear — they're your pacing anchor for every run.

Racing me at {{race_name}}? Come find the Duravel setup — I'll be there. Show this email for a live look at how the plan would build your next block.

Re-open my pacing splits →

Go get it. — Levi

You're getting this because you grabbed the free pacing tool at duravel.app.

Duravel · [Your business mailing address] · Unsubscribe

Email · Trigger: Post-race (event leads only, by race_tag) Timing: Race date + 1–2 days

Subject: How'd {{race_name}} go?

Preview: Whatever the number said — here's how to build on it.

Merge fields: {{first_name}}, {{race_name}}, {{trial_url}}, {{unsubscribe_url}}

● DURAVEL

{{first_name}} — however {{race_name}} went, you've got the most valuable thing in training right now: a fresh, honest data point on your race.

The athletes who improve fastest don't wait for motivation to fade — they turn a race straight into the next block while the lessons are sharp. Which runs fell apart? Where did the time actually go? That's the blueprint for the next 8–12 weeks.

Duravel will build that block for you: tell it your result and your next target, and it periodizes the whole thing around your real numbers — then adapts as you log. Free for 14 days.

Turn this race into my next plan →

Proud of you for toeing the line. — Levi

You're getting this because you grabbed the free pacing tool at duravel.app.

Duravel · [Your business mailing address] · Unsubscribe

Footer address line is a CAN-SPAM requirement — fill in a real mailing address (a registered agent or PO box is fine) before the first send.